INGENUITY OF TOWN MARSHAL

St. Peter's Parish Passes Under Care of Missionary Board—Some Old Lodge Officers.

Evidently John Edgar, who served as town marshal in 1876, was a man who when he started a job completed it regardless of conditions or difficulties, and when he attempted to put an offender in jail he was not deterred by the little matter of finding some person with the means and authority to unlock the cells. An old timer relates a story concerning the Marshal which rather amusingly illustrates this determined trait of the town official. Just at dusk one evening Marshal Edgar ran about of a man with more lightning whiskey aboard than he could make behave itself and consequently was exhibiting a tendency to create a disturbance. Edgar took the individual in tow and started for the county jail which was in the basement of the Courthouse, to lock him up for the night. Arriving with his burden at the Courthouse he found that both the Sheriff and his deputy, who carried the keys to the jail were out of town, and that apparently there was no means of placing his booze-soaked prisoner in the jail. Determined not to be balked in his efforts to preserve the quiet of the town Edgar took the man into the building and raising one of the rear windows quietly dropped him into the back yard. Evidently the night was not long enough to sleep off the effects of the "jag" for the next morning the Marshal found his prisoner still in confinement just as easily as if he had been locked up in one of the iron cells.

At an open meeting of Metamora Tribe No. 24, improved Order of Red Men, officers for the term were installed as follows: J. W. Bartlett, sachem; W. H. Shreve, senior sagamore; G. W. Green, junior sagamore; D. M. Knowlton, chief of records; A. Underhill, keeper of wampum. There was a large attendance of the residents of the town present to witness the installation ceremonies, which were conducted by W. T. Cruikshank, the Great Sachem. At that time the tribe numbered 61 members on its rolls.

On the evening of July 9th, Ocean View Lodge of Odd Fellows, at Halfmoon Bay installed its officers as follows: H. M. Jewell, noble grand; L. Jacobson, vice grand; E. W. Sneedaker, recording secretary; R. H. Hatch, treasurer.

The officers installed by Bay View Lodge of Odd Fellows of this city were: C. A. Kirkpatrick, noble grand; W. J. Welborn, vice grand; N. N. Nutting, recording secretary; B. A. Rankin, permanent secretary; T. W. Lathrop, treasurer.

On July 15th, 1870, the status of St. Peter's Parish in this city, was changed from that of an independent parish, which it had been from the time of the building of the church, to that of a missionary parish. This action was taken by Rev. A. L. Brewer, dean of the district, at the request of the vestrymen of the parish, at which where were present vestrymen John Shelly, Benjamin F. Cooper and A. T. Warren. For more than a year previous to this time it had been found impossible to supply a regular rector, from the fact that since the formation of the parish many of the members upon whom it had relied for its support had moved to other places. With this action the church was again opened and it was decided that the pews should be free to the occupancy of any who might desire to attend, and the holding of regular services was resumed.

The first intimation of the establishment of what is now animal-proof industry in the vicinity of Redwood City is made in the following news item in the San Francisco Alta of September 11th, 1870: "We are informed that a large tract of swamp land near the mouth of Redwood Creek has been purchased by T. W. McCallum & Co. for the purpose of erecting an extensive cod fishery. This firm is extensively engaged in this kind of fishery, having usually four or five ships at a time exploring the Ochotsk Sea and other points on the North Pacific. They intend to spend a large sum for the necessary buildings in connection with their business. The locality offers many peculiar advantages for their business, and at the same time what has heretofore been desolate marsh must become very much improved."

On the 1st of September, 1870, the San Francisco and San Jose Railroad Company announced a material reduction in the rates of fare, both to San Jose and intermediate points. Through tickets from San Francisco to San Jose, which for some time had been sold for $2.50 were reduced to $2, while the fare between this city and San Francisco was reduced from $1.50 to $1.15. At that time monthly commutation tickets between this city and San Francisco sold for $16, or a book of 50 tickets good for the passage of the "purchaser, his family or his guests," could be bought for $46. Some impressions of the growth of the population of San Mateo County may be obtained from figures compiled by W. A. Clark, census marshal for San Mateo County for the census of 1870. At that time the census enumerators found the total population of the county to be 6,653. This was divided among the several townships as follows: First, 1,310; second township 977; third township, 1,414; fourth township, 67; fifth township 1,666; sixth township, 659. The population within the town limits was found to be 729. This latter announcement came as something of an unpleasant surprise to the people of the town, who had confidently expected to show a resident population of at least 1000.

CITY OFFICIAL PAPER
D. E. O'KEEFE, Editor and Proprietor

Now then, every body get in and boost for the Fourth of July—show them all that Redwood City is a live one.

It looks as if we were to get that appropriation for Redwood Creek after all—thanks to the effective work of Congressman Hayes.

Congressman Hayes deserves and certainly will receive the thanks of every citizen of Redwood City for the prompt manner in which he "chased up" the appropriation for the improvement of Redwood Creek. Those who have had experience in the matter realize how hard it is to secure appropriations of this character, and to win success in the face of the handicap of the delay of the report upon which the request must be based certainly indicates a strong interest in our behalf.

Should Act With Caution.

One of the most important and possibly difficult subjects which will engage the attention of the members of the City Council in the near future will be the selection of a site for the new City Hall. In the decision of this important question it must be expected that the Trustees will be governed by a desire to promote the best interests of the city at large rather than the enhancement of property in any particular locality. That the site selected should be one easily accessible from any part of the city goes without question, and for this reason it should be as central as possible. At the same time there are many reasons why the building should not be located in the immediate business center. Chief among these will be the almost impossibility of securing within the limit of reasonable cost a lot of sufficient dimensions to be in all respects suitable to the purpose.

Both from an artistic and utilitarian purpose the lot selected should be sufficiently large to allow of at least reasonable grounds surrounding the building. With suitably laid out grounds a building of attractive appearance can be provided without the unnecessary expense of undue ornamentation. It is also only by that this means that proper protection can be provided for the records of the city, which under other circumstances would be constantly exposed to the danger of fire from surrounding buildings.

As a first step in the solution of this difficult question the Trustees have already intimated their desire that owners of desirable sites should make their offers known. Undoubtedly there will be numerous tenders, but owners must be prepared to submit to the public weal rather than to urge a choice from selfish motives.

Hallmoo Bay Notes

There are four new cottages in course of construction at Marine View. This with another cottage being reconstructed gives the resort a lively appearance. Captain J. B. Hersey, who has spent some months at his orange grove at Lindsay, has returned to his home at Moss Beach. The Captain drove the entire distance of nearly 300 miles in a single rig. Mrs. Hersey did not care to undertake this hard trip and will follow a little later by rail.

Mrs. H. S. Wheeler, who has been quite ill at her home at Farallon, is reported as rapidly improving.

It is an ill wind that does no one good. Cunha's stage did a land office business during the recent blockade on the Ocean Shore road.

Miss Nellie Garwood has gone to Niles where she has taken a position in the office of the Washington Press as linotype operator.

Mrs. Fred Simmons, who recently submitted to a surgical operation at San Francisco, is reported to be rapidly improving.

Mrs. Joseph Francis of San Jose has been the guest of her uncle, Supervisor Francis.

This being the time for receiving bids for the bonds of Jefferson school district amounting to $45,000, the clerk was directed to proceed with the opening of bids which were as follows:

Blymyer Company, San Francisco, premium, $2390.

E. H. Rollins & Sons, San Francisco, premium, $3096.

Jas. H. Adams & Co., San Francisco, premium, $1410.

The State Board of Examiners, Sacramento, $3541.50.

On motion of Blackburn, seconded by Casey, the bonds were ordered sold to the state, its offer being the highest.

The incorporation of Hillsboro was taken up. Attorney Reddington, representing the proposed incorporation, submitted the matter urging that the petition as presented be granted. C. N. Kirkbride, appearing for the trustees of San Mateo, said he had no desire to delay the matter but would submit a few facts for the consideration of the board. He explained that there were 100 miles of roads in the second township that are kept in fine condition by Supervisor Coleman from a revenue derived from $5,100,000 of assessed valuation. Should Hillsboro be incorporated with the proposed bound aries the district would suffer a loss of $1,800,000. If Burlingame would take in Burlingame Park and San Mateo absorb Hayward Park a further reduction would take place in the assessed valuation of the property in the second township. Mr. Coleman's income would be reduced from $26,000 to $14,000 and the new incorporation would only take in more than two miles of roads.

Henry T. Scott came forward with a solution of the difficulty that met with the approval of all. On condition that Hillsborough be incorporated he promised on behalf of the residents of that place to pay the road district permanently whatever amount it now receives from the proposed city in road taxes, and agreed to give a bond that such a contract would be carried out.

A communication was read from the Building Trades Council of San Mateo protesting against the incorporation of Hillsborough on the ground that it would retard the growth of San Mateo.

The whole matter was referred to Supervisor Coleman and the district attorney to prepare a bond as suggested by Mr. Scott and present the same at an adjourned meeting next Monday.

The new fire commissioners of Vista Grande asked that they be granted a year in which to make their report. The clerk was directed [Continued on third page.]

Some Unusual Entertainment.

Over 1400 years have gone since on the 17 of March 493, St. Patrick, Ireland's great apostle passed to his reward leaving after him as an eternal memorial of his apostolic work the little island far out on the outposts of the wild Atlantic, which was to be the center of Christianity and civilization, the beacon light of faith and knowledge during the dark ages of barbarism that was about to dawn. And so since that day wherever the edge of sunrise rolling around this living earth reveals on all the ocean isles and distant continents the myriad scattered children of the Gael, on St. Patrick's Day they will gather together and let their hearts and affections steal back again to the Emerald Isle, the land of their birth or the land of their fathers. It is in harmony with this universal spirit of Irish Patriotism that the parish ioners of Menlo Park will celebrate the feast day of Ireland's apostle on next Wednesday evening, March 16th, in the Parochial Hall. An elaborate program as has already been stated in this paper has been prepared for that evening, the mere mention of the features of which is sufficient to indicate its merit. The great feature is an Irish drama entitled "Shawn Aroon," a pretty play in which the well known pathos and humor of the Celt are beautifully blended, then there is Irish music and songs and views of the Old Land and of course bushels of fun and enjoyment for all. The programs given at the Parochial Hall are well known, but this time we are going to surpass all expectations as nothing on so elaborate a scale has been before attempted. The young men and ladies who are to take part have been preparing for the last month, and are now putting on the finishing touches. The following will take part in the cast of characters: Jas. E. Fitzgerald, J. B. Welch, John W. Morey, Harry B. Morey Jr., Joseph Kelly, Leo Duff, David Roche, John Doyle, Grace Parlee, Frances Casey and Margaret Kelly. The following ladies have volunteered to look after the refreshments: Mrs. A. Gale, Mrs. J. B. Kelly, Mrs. C. A. Brady, and Miss Margaret Roche. Tickets can be procured at the following places: Duff and Doyle, Menlo Pharmacy, B. Liedberg, J. R. Daly at the Wells Fargo office, also at the Parochial House or at the Hall on the evening of the entertainment. Come early as the play will start at 8 o'clock on account of the length of the program.

The jury brought in a verdict of $2000, that is $500 for the right of way and $1500 for damages caused by the severance of the property. The defendant asked damages in the sum of $48,000.
